Dress up or dress down? What's your daily uniform?

Prior to lockdown, I was all about dressing up but now it's near impossible to get me into anything but my go-to ripped jeans, a white t-shirt and cosy cashmere socks. I'm not going to lie, a part of me has become more withdrawn from my previous existence and the idea of Netflix every night on my sofa is the dream. I would have to say my daily uniform consists of t-shirts from ÉTERNE (<https://shopeterne.com/>), jeans from Frame (<https://frame-store.com/>) or Gallery Dept (<https://gallerydept.com/>), cashmere socks by The Elder Statesmen (<https://elder-statesman.com/>), tie-dye jumpers by Zoë Jordan (<https://www.zoe-jordan.com/>) and my favourite trainers by Feiyue (<https://feiyue-shoes.com/>), with whom I have recently collaborated – they are literally like my second skin.
